

New RLTC website members' area

Introduction:

We are launching a new RLTC website with a members' area. This is a new service to RLTC members who may wish to contact other members over subjects of common interest.

The members' area is only available online in the password protected members' section of the club's website. It will be kept up to date automatically as new members join, and you will always have the choice to opt in and out at any time.

The data protection act requires us to ask whether you would like your details displayed in the members' area. We would like it to be as complete as possible in order that members can make maximum use of it.

Joining:

The members' area link can be found at the top left of the website just under the 'home' menu item, on the members page or by going here: <http://www.rltcc.co.uk/user/register>

To login to the members' area you will need to add the following:

- A username and email address – these will be used as your login details
- Your name (or nickname) that will be displayed on the website
- Your membership number
- Which sports you are interested in (Tennis and/or Croquet)
- A tick box that will display your details on this website for all members to see, this can be changed at any time.
- You may also add your phone number to enable matches to be arranged easier

Your details may be changed at any time and if you forget your login details at a later date you can request a new password.

Opting out:

If you do not add yourself then you will not be included in the members' area.

Membership help:

If you have any problems then please contact the club on info@rltcc.co.uk

Technical help:
